Why does the sky appear blue?

When a white light (from sun) enters the earth's atmosphere, it gets scattered away due to the atmospheric particles. Since, blue colour has the minimum wavelength, so blue colour scatters ...

Why is the colour of sky blue?

The molecules of air and other fine particles in the atmosphere have size smaller than the wavelength of visible light. These are more effective in scattering light of shorter wavelength at ...

Why does the sky appear blue on a day?

The sky appears blue on a clear day because of the scattering of blue component of white sunlight by air molecules presents in the atmosphere. When sunlight passes through the ...

Why do the sky appears dark instead of blue to the ...

There is no atmosphere in the outer space. We see the sky blue because scattering happens due to the particles in the atmosphere. The reason for scattering of light is the colloidal particles in ...

Why do clouds appear white while sky appears blue?

Q. Why do clouds appear white while sky appears blue? Q. Clouds are white because of light scattering off of water droplets. Q. Match the following statements with correct terms ...

Why does sky appears blue

Why does sky appears blue ?The correct option is D Fine particles in the air scatter blue light more than red light The molecules of air and other fine particles in the atmosphere have size ...

Why is the colour of the clear sky blue?

Sky as such does not have any colour as such, but looks blue due to the maximum scattering of blue colour. Air and water molecules in the sky scatter blue light more since the colour has ...
