Overview

Is Greece ready for a battery energy storage system in 2025?

In 2025, Greece has accelerated its plans for utility-scale Battery Energy Storage Systems (BESS), signalling a shift in policy, financing, and market expectations. However, while the scale of ambition is high, there are several tensions emerging—especially around the move toward unsponsored (merchant) projects.

Does Greece need a battery energy storage system?

Greece has initiated a series of competitive tenders to bolster its energy storage infrastructure, aiming to integrate significant battery energy storage systems (BESS) into its electricity grid. These tenders are part of a broader strategy to enhance grid flexibility and support renewable energy integration.

Is Greece at a turning point with battery energy storage?

Greece in 2025 is at a turning point with Battery Energy Storage. The government's shift toward large unsponsored, merchant BESS with priority grid connection reflects confidence that market conditions — especially curtailment pressures — are making subsidised models less necessary. Yet that confidence comes with risk.

Why is sunny Greece a good place to invest in solar energy?

Sunny Greece struggles with an overabundance of solar generation, which creates a valuable opportunity for BESS (battery energy storage systems) to provide flexibility and relieve grid pressure. Greece has become a dynamic renewables market, rapidly scaling solar and wind deployments alongside EU-aligned energy reforms.
