

Is it safe to install solar panels on the roof

Overview

Should you install solar panels on your roof?

In recent years, more and more homeowners have installed solar panels onto their roofs. This is due to the relatively recent affordability of solar panelling and an ever-growing focus on the energy-efficiency and environmental benefits of harnessing solar energy within the home.

Do you need a roofing expert when working with solar panels?

It is always advisable to get help from a roofing expert when working with solar panels, as they will ensure that your roof is as protected as possible at all stages. As solar panels are fitted onto your existing roof structures, they can sometimes cover up roofing issues that would otherwise be obvious.

Do solar panels cover up roof problems?

As solar panels are fitted onto your existing roof structures, they can sometimes cover up roofing issues that would otherwise be obvious. For example, if there is a leak or a moisture-related problem on your roof, the warning signs may be hidden by the solar panel.

Are solar panels safe?

While solar technology is generally considered safe, the public has raised certain health concerns, which typically fall into three categories: electromagnetic fields (EMFs) and radiation, chemical exposure from the materials used in solar panels, and the potential thermal impact on homes and neighborhoods.
