

Polish solar container communication station wind power 6 25MWh

Overview

Why is Poland integrating offshore wind into its energy policy?

Integrating offshore wind is a significant milestone for Poland, which has set ambitious targets for expanding this capacity as part of its Energy Policy until 2040. By diversifying its energy sources, Poland aims to bolster its energy security while reducing its dependence on fossil fuels.

What is Poland's energy policy for 2040?

These renewable energy auctions are integral to Poland's strategy for increasing the share of renewables in its energy mix and reducing greenhouse gas emissions. The Polish energy policy for 2040 emphasizes the development of renewable energy sources, with a particular focus on offshore wind and solar.

How important is solar power in Poland?

The substantial allocations—1.8 TWh for systems under 1 MW and 2.0 TWh for those between 1-20 MW—underscore the increasing importance of solar power within Poland's renewable energy framework and its role in achieving national clean energy targets. Alongside solar, the auction includes dedicated categories for hydropower, biomass, and biogas.

How many solar projects were awarded in Poland?

Katja Wünschel, CEO RWE Renewables Europe & Australia: "31 solar projects awarded. This is a great success and underlines our intention to further expand the use of solar energy in Poland, where we already have 91 MWac of solar capacity in operation and more than 100 MWac under construction today.
