What is a solar inverter?

A solar inverter is an integral component of the solar electric power system responsible for inverting energy from direct current (DC) to alternating current (AC). Different types of solar power inverters might be used depending on a solar system's varying requirements. A solar inverter converts DC power from solar panels into AC power that can be used by your home or business.

What are the two main types of solar inverters?

Broadly, there are two main types of solar inverters:

- Microinverters have a higher upfront cost but can provide long-term savings by being exceedingly energy efficient.
- String inverters are primarily used to save upfront system costs.
