Overview

---

What is building integrated photovoltaics (BIPV)?

Building Integrated Photovoltaics (BIPV) is a technology that provides buildings with the ability to generate solar power without disrupting the aesthetic of the architectural design. The technology integrates photovoltaic (PV) modules into the skin of a building, replacing the façade and pitched/flat/curved roofs.

Is BIPV a cost ineffective building solution?

A BIPV system integrated into a facade or into a roof is often classified as a cost ineffective building solution. This happens when the BIPV envelope is directly compared with a similar non-photovoltaic solution (cladding in fiber cement, stone, glass, tiles, etc.) without considering the economic benefits of the energy production.

Can a BIPV solar roof be used in a residential building?

While most BIPV products are designed for large commercial buildings, there are exceptions. The Tesla Solar Roof is a prime example of BIPV's rising popularity within residential home construction.

What is a BIPV system?

BIPV represents financial benefits for the building, but it also means a high upfront cost surpassing that of traditional façade. Cost is one of the most important factors to consider in BIPV systems.
