What HS code is a lead-acid battery?

Lead-acid batteries fall in the UN class 8 (corrosive) and hold the HS code 8507.10 for lead-acid starter batteries. They are widely used in vehicles and backup power systems. Common lead-acid types are starter batteries, deep cycle batteries, and VRLA (valve-regulated lead acid) batteries.

What are the logistical considerations for shipping lead-acid batteries?

The top logistical considerations for shipping these types include: Weight - Lead-acid batteries are very heavy, requiring structural reinforcement of pallets and handling equipment that can support weight. Short circuit prevention - Proper insulation and separation between battery terminals are crucial to prevent short circuits during transport.

Which battery is best for solar energy storage?

Very popular for solar panel system energy storage due to their longevity and lack of fumes due to their sealed container. The Absolyte GP industrial sealed battery by GNB Industrial Power is a VRLA battery that does not require added water for the life of the battery.

How do I ship a lithium battery?

Follow the same steps as above for the equipment. Place the battery in inner packaging (e.g., a sealed plastic bag) to prevent short circuits. Secure the battery to the equipment or within the packaging to prevent movement. If you're shipping lithium batteries alone:
